Emergency Management Personnel from the City and County of Nacogdoches have been in San Antonio this week to attend the Texas Emergency Management Conference. This Conference brings together thousands of both public and private partners in emergency management from across the state. Nacogdoches City and County Personnel have attended training related to evacuation, communications, sheltering, wildfires, damage assessments, and disaster recovery. This conference has also provided an opportunity to meet face to face with other jurisdictions and the state, exchanging ideas, best practices, and solutions.
